Anti-Bullying Week

An assembly on the Monday launches Odd Socks Day, then four themed days: swapping seats at lunch, friendship bracelets, a group chat pinned to a wall for students to mark where it went wrong, and a positivity tree. The aim of the week is to help students notice who is on their own.

Before you start. Some students may find this week upsetting, and some may tell you what has happened to them. Before Monday, tell everyone running a day who to pass that on to. Fill in the named member of staff and your reporting route on slide 9 before you show it.

Print these

Page	What it is	How many
Page 2	What each day needs, and the shopping list	One, for you
Page 3	Running each day: the things that go wrong if nobody has thought about them	One, for you
Page 4	How to make a bracelet (Wednesday)	One per table
Page 5	Leaves for the positivity tree (Friday)	One leaf per student, six to a sheet
Page 6	Table topic cards (Tuesday)	One card per table
Pages 7 to 10	The group chat, three sheets, and the four wall prompts (Thursday)	One set, printed as large as you can

How it works

Step	What happens
Before the week	Book the assembly and the spaces, fill in every square bracket in the slides, do the shopping and the printing, and ask form tutors to tell their forms about odd socks. Tell canteen staff about Tuesday.
Monday	The assembly launches the week. Odd Socks Day needs nothing else from you.
Tuesday	Mix-It-Up Lunch. A topic card on every table in the hall, and students sit somewhere new.
Wednesday	Friendship bracelets at lunch. Students make two: one to keep and one to give to somebody who would not expect it.
Thursday	The group chat goes up on a wall with the four prompts around it. Students add sticky notes where they think it went wrong.
Friday	The positivity tree. Students write something good about somebody on a leaf and hang it up, unsigned.

Worth knowing

- The main things to buy are embroidery thread, beads and string, and the shopping list on page 2 adds sticky notes, card and a hole punch. Everything else prints from this pack. Each of the other four days needs one or two members of staff and about forty minutes. Each day stands on its own, so if you cannot run one of them, the rest of the week still works.

A week of noticing who is on their own is a good start.

What each day needs

The week needs one shopping trip and one printing session.

Day by day

Day	What happens	What you need	Who runs it
Mon	Odd socks with uniform, all day.	Nothing. Tell form tutors on Friday.	Form tutors
Tue	Topic card on every table in the hall. Sit somewhere new.	Table cards, page 6. Print, cut, one per table.	Duty staff
Wed	Make two bracelets at lunch: one to keep, one to give away.	Thread and beads. Method on page 4.	Two staff, one room
Thu	The group chat on a wall. Students annotate it.	Pages 7 to 10, printed large. Sticky notes and pens.	One member of staff
Fri	Write something good on a leaf, hang it up.	Leaves from page 5, string, a tree or a board.	Student volunteers

The shopping list

What	Roughly how much	Worth knowing
Embroidery thread	20 to 30 skeins, mixed colours	Each bracelet takes three lengths of about 60cm. One skein makes two or three bracelets.
Beads	One large mixed tub	Choose beads with large holes. Pony beads thread easily, and seed beads do not.
Sticky notes	Two or three pads	For Thursday. Small ones stop anyone writing an essay.
String or twine	About 20 metres	For Friday, to hang the leaves. Garden twine holds a paper leaf fine.
Card	About 20 sheets of A4	Leaves and table cards last better on card than paper. 160gsm if you have it.
A hole punch	One or two	For the leaves. Set them out on Friday and let students punch their own.

You can do all the shopping in one trip. Thread and beads are the main cost, and the quantities above are enough for a form group of thirty. It is worth asking around, because somebody in the art department often has both.

Running each day

Short notes on the things that go wrong if nobody has thought about them.

Monday: Odd Socks Day

The main thing that can go wrong is staff not knowing, and a student being pulled up on uniform for taking part. Tell form tutors on the Friday before, and ask them to tell their forms. Wear odd socks yourself, where students can see them, because it shows that taking part is fine.

Tuesday: Mix-It-Up Lunch

Put one card on every table before lunch starts. Please do not ask anybody to move, because students who feel unsure may find it harder if they are pushed. Duty staff can help by sitting down at a half-empty table themselves. It is normal for the first ten minutes to feel awkward, and things usually settle after that.

Wednesday: Friendship Bracelets

Cut the thread into 60cm lengths beforehand, because cutting it at lunch takes up most of the time. Two members of staff is enough for about thirty students, and students who already know how to plait can help others. Remind students every few minutes that the second bracelet is for somebody else.

Thursday: The Group Chat

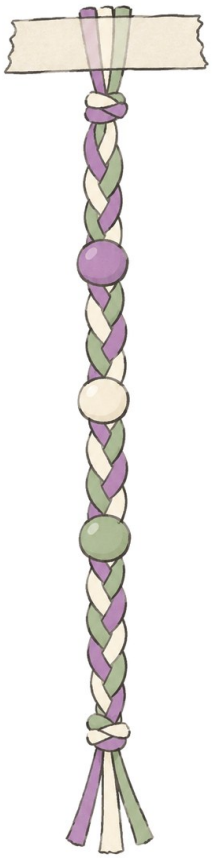

Print pages 7, 8 and 9 as large as your printer allows and put them side by side, or project the chat. Pin the four prompt cards from page 10 around it. A few students may write something silly on a sticky note, so take those down and leave the rest. At the end of the day, read what is there and pass anything that worries you to your safeguarding lead the same day.

Friday: The Positivity Tree

Leaves are unsigned, so students can write freely, but you or another member of staff should read each one as it goes up. If a leaf is unkind or worrying, take it down and pass any worry to your safeguarding lead. If the tree is outside, tape will hold the leaves better than string in the wet. Leave it up for a fortnight afterwards, so the kind words stay on show.

How to make a bracelet

Print this and put it on the tables. You will need three threads and some beads.

1. Knot the threads.

   Take three lengths of about 60cm, line up the ends, and tie one knot about 10cm down.

2. Tape it down.

   Tape the knot to the table so that it stays still while you plait.

3. Plait, and add beads.

   Cross the left thread over the middle, then the right over the middle, and repeat. Every few centimetres, thread a bead onto whichever strand is on the outside.

4. Knot the end, then tie it on.

   Stop when it goes round a wrist with a bit to spare. Knot it, trim the ends, and tie it on with the loose thread.

> Make two bracelets. One stays on your wrist, and the other goes to somebody who would not expect it from you.

FRIDAY · PRINTABLE

Leaves for the positivity tree

Six to a sheet. Cut them out, punch the corner, and hang them with string.

PUNCH HERE AND HANG IT UP

Something good about somebody here:

Do not sign it.

PUNCH HERE AND HANG IT UP

Something good about somebody here:

Do not sign it.

PUNCH HERE AND HANG IT UP

Something good about somebody here:

Do not sign it.

PUNCH HERE AND HANG IT UP

Something good about somebody here:

Do not sign it.

PUNCH HERE AND HANG IT UP

Something good about somebody here:

Do not sign it.

PUNCH HERE AND HANG IT UP

Something good about somebody here:

Do not sign it.

Table topic cards

Eight to a sheet. Cut them out and put one on every table before lunch.

MIX-IT-UP LUNCH

What is something you are good at that people at this table might not know about?

MIX-IT-UP LUNCH

If you could add one new subject to the timetable, what would it be?

MIX-IT-UP LUNCH

What is the best thing you have watched or read this year, and would you recommend it?

MIX-IT-UP LUNCH

What is something you have changed your mind about in the last few years?

MIX-IT-UP LUNCH

If you could go anywhere in the world for a week, where would you go?

MIX-IT-UP LUNCH

What is one small thing that always makes your day better?

MIX-IT-UP LUNCH

If you could start a new club at this school, what would it be?

MIX-IT-UP LUNCH

What is something you believed when you were younger that turned out not to be true?

The group chat, sheet 1

Three sheets, printed as large as your printer allows and put side by side. You are looking at Priya's phone, so her messages sit on the right. Change any name that matches a student in your year group, and swap any word that has dated by the time you run this. The chat still works.

JAY
whos coming sat

SAM
me

KAI
yh im down

PRIYA
what time

JAY
like 2 ish

TEE
same

JAY
aight thats everyone then

PRIYA
rowan?

JAY
nah not this one

SAM
😭😭

PRIYA
why not

JAY
hes just a bit much innit

KAI
fr he yaps so much

The group chat, sheet 2

Print it beside the last one so the whole thing reads as a single chat.

SAM
bro talked for ten minutes in english about a DOCUMENTARY

KAI
NOT THE DOCUMENTARY 💀

TEE
im actually crying

SAM
he said it was really fascinating 😭

KAI
nahhh why is he like this

JAY
minus 1000 aura

TEE
hes so cooked

KAI
bro thinks hes the main character 💀

MO
hes not done anything to any of you tho

SAM
allow it its banter

KAI
yh chill out

JAY
hes not even in the chat he cant see it

The group chat, sheet 3

Print it beside the last one so the whole thing reads as a single chat.

MO
thats worse?? not better??

SAM
why are you being so deep rn

KAI
mo relax its jokes 😭

PRIYA
hes gonna ask about sat tho 👀

JAY
just say it was last minute

TEE
this is long

MO
im out

Mo left the group

KAI
💀

JAY
anyway. 2pm

SAM
cool

Priya is typing…

Prompts for the wall

Four to a sheet. Cut them out and pin one at each corner of the chat. The question underneath all four: nobody in that chat has hit anybody, so is anybody being bullied?

Where does it stop being a joke?

Put your note on the exact message where the chat stops being a joke. Two people may not agree.

“He is not even in the chat.”

Jay thinks that makes it fine. Does it? Rowan will never see a word of this.

Mo says something, then leaves.

It changes nothing and the plans carry on. So was it worth saying? What would you have done, and when?

Priya is still typing.

She asked why twice, then read all of it. Is that the same as joining in?